GLEN TAYLOR

OWNER

On March 23, 1995, Glen Taylor closed the deal that made him majority owner of the Minnesota Timberwolves. He added the title of NBA owner to a list that already included international businessman, state senator, entrepreneur, philanthropist and executive of the year.

Before he even completed his first full year season as owner, Taylor set in motion his plan for making a mark on the Minnesota sports scene. Prior to the completion of the sale of the team from Marv Wolfenson and Harvey Ratner, Taylor installed Rob Moor, Roger Griffith and Chris Wright to run the business functions of the franchise, and promoted Minnesota and NBA basketball legend Kevin McHale to develop the team. With the move of McHale to vice president of basketball and the addition of head coach Flip Saunders, Taylor assembled a basketball staff with years of experience in the pro ranks.

Taylor, 63, is Chairman of the Board of Taylor Corporation, located in Mankato, Minn., 75 miles southwest of the Twin Cities. The Taylor Companies, which are involved in the printing, marketing and electronics industries, include more than 70 operating divisions in 19 states, three Canadian provinces, the United Kingdom, Australia and Mexico. Their employees number more than 14,000, including more than 5,000 Minnesotans.

Taylor built his company from modest beginnings. While a student at Mankato State University in 1959, he took a part-time job at Carlson Wedding Service. Fifteen years later, in 1974, he acquired a majority interest in the company, laying the foundation for what would soon grow into Taylor Corporation.

Taylor's business savvy has been recognized by Corporate Report magazine, which honored him as its Executive of the Year (1987), and the Sales and Marketing Executives of Minneapolis/St. Paul, who awarded him with their Sales Executive of the Year Award (1999). He was also inducted into the Minnesota Hall of Fame (2002) by Twin Cities Monthly Magazine.

Taylor was elected to the Minnesota Senate in 1980, where he served until 1990. He became assistant Senate minority leader in 1982. From 1984 to 1986, he served as Senate minority leader. While in the Senate, Taylor was instrumental in providing leadership in the areas of higher education, child care and economic development policies.

Through personal involvement, Taylor has remained active in many civic and charitable causes. In Mankato, he has served as YMCA President, Chamber of Commerce Director, Mankato Jaycees President and United Way Campaign Chairman. He has also has served on his church's board of deacons and board of trustees and on the Mankato State University Foundation board of directors. On the state level, Taylor has served as the director of the Minnesota Business partnership, director of the Greater Minnesota Corporation and president of the International Thermographers Association.

Nationally, Taylor has provided expert testimony on business and child care issues to the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives and served as a committee chair on the 1991 Commission on Reform and Efficiency (CORE).

In 1997, Mankato State University awarded Taylor his first honorary doctorate. Taylor received the degree of Honorary Doctor of Laws for his distinguished professional career and volunteer service. In October 2001, Taylor was inducted into the Minnesota State University, Mankato Hall of Distinction.

Taylor was born April 20, 1941, and raised on a farm 60 miles west of his current home in Mankato. He graduated from Comfrey (Minn.) High School in 1959. In just three years, he earned his bachelor's degree in mathematics, physics and social science from Mankato State University. He later continued his education at the Harvard Graduate School of Business.

Taylor continues to live in Mankato. His children, Terri, Jean, Taylor Moor, Jeff, and Kendahl, and grandchildren, Andrea, Melissa, Grayson, Emma and Abby, and great-granddaughters, Piper and Riley, enjoy attending many of the Timberwolves and Lynx games.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Rob Moor is entering his 11th year with the Minnesota Timberwolves and his first year as the team's chief executive officer. As CEO, Moor is responsible for the strategic goals and objectives for the franchise as well as new business development. Prior to being named as CEO, Moor was the Timberwolves President for the past 10 years. In addition to his CEO duties, Moor is also president of Midwest Entertainment Group, where he oversees the operations of Target Center.

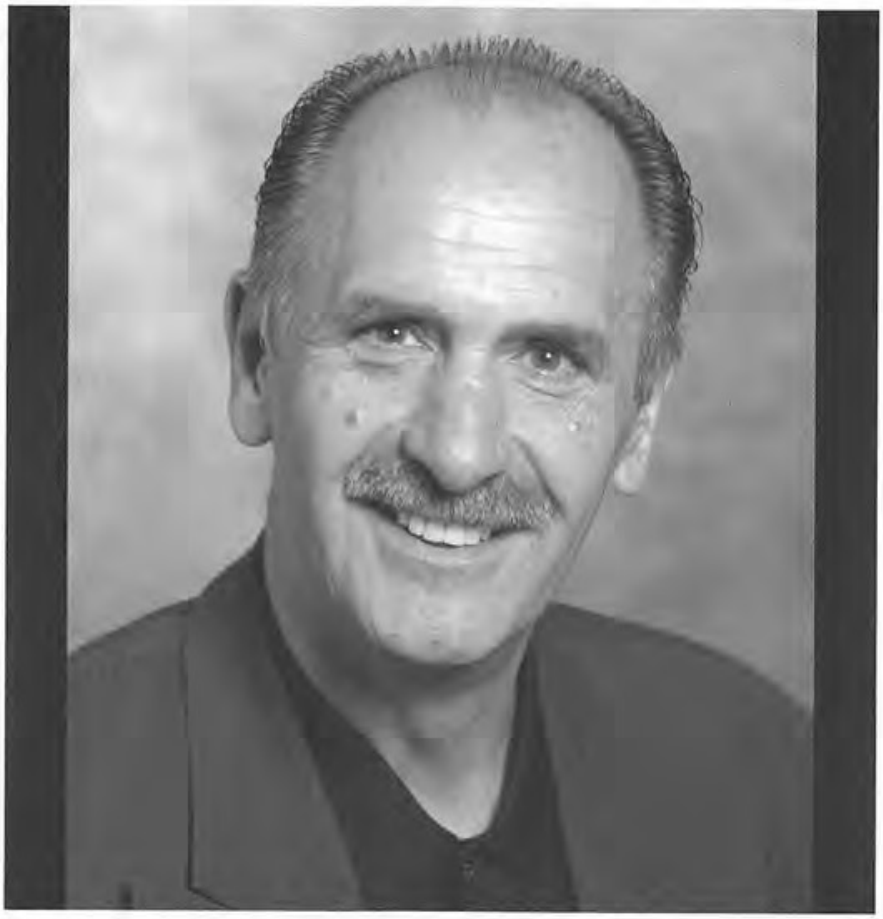
This past spring, Moor was instrumental in negotiating a partnership with Nederlander Concerts to form Midwest Entertainment Group, which assumed the management of Target Center from Clear Channel Entertainment.

With Moor taking the lead, Midwest Entertainment initiated an extreme makeover of Target Center in the past year, including a new arena scoreboard, a seat replacement and reconfiguration project and the installation of Club CAMBRIA, a members-only lounge.

Prior to coming to Minnesota, Moor was the executive vice president of the Los Angeles Kings of the National Hockey League. Moor began his career in entertainment at MGM Studios in film production. He was involved in the merger with United Artists and subsequent sale of the studios to Ted Turner. Later, he joined 20th Century Fox working in the areas of film distribution.

Moor has worked on a number of non-profit boards and continues to be active in the Twin Cities community.

A native of Geneva, Switzerland, Moor moved to the United States in 1966, living in Santa Barbara and Los Angeles, California. Moor currently resides in Wayzata, Minn.



CHRIS WRIGHT

PRESIDENT

This coming season marks Wright's 15th year with the Timberwolves organization and first as the team's president. Wright is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the team.

Prior to ascending to his new position, Wright served as senior vice president and chief marketing officer. In that capacity, Wright oversaw the communications group (public relations, community relations, websites, Timberwolves FastBreak Foundation and editorial content in publications) and ticket sales (season, partial season, group tickets), as well as the corporate sales group (suite sales, corporate sales, corporate services and publications sales).

A native of England, Wright came to the United States in 1978. Prior to joining the Timberwolves, he spent three years working for the state of Minnesota, first as a consultant working on bids for major national and international events, including the programming of the $17.4 million National Sports Center in Blaine, Minn. Prior to that, Wright also served as general manager for two Major Indoor Soccer League Teams, the Pittsburgh Spirit (1981-86) and the Minnesota Strikers (1986-87).

Wright, who graduated from Carnegie College of Physical Education in Headingly Leeds, Yorkshire, England, is very involved with a number of local charities and youth sports programs. He resides in Eden Prairie, Minn., with his wife, Walla, their sons Jeff and Ned, and their daughter, Christy.

KEVIN McHALE

VICE PRESIDENT OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

In the summer of 2003, McHale engineered a flurry of transactions to help the Timberwolves improve their chances in the tough Western Conference. Through trades and free agent signings, McHale landed veterans Latrell Sprewell, Sam Cassell, Trenton Hassell, Michael Olowokandi, Mark Madsen, Fred Hoiberg and Ervin Johnson. The result was the team's first trip to the Western Conference Finals. This past summer, McHale re-signed free agents Hassell, Hoiberg and Troy Hudson to keep the team intact for another run at the title.

McHale's constant desire to improve the Timberwolves and his single-minded focus to win mirrors the attitude he exhibited during his Hall of Fame career with the Boston Celtics. Wolves fans can be assured that McHale will do his best to build a championship team in his homestate of Minnesota.

One of McHale's most heralded moves came shortly after he was named to his current post on May 11, 1995 – he selected high-school phenom Kevin Garnett with the fifth overall pick in the 1995 NBA Draft. Considered a bold move at the time, McHale and his staff were rewarded with an outstanding rookie campaign from Garnett. Garnett's improvement and McHale's continual reshaping of the Wolves' roster have resulted in eight consecutive years of playoff basketball in Minnesota.

McHale has had a history of success in the game of basketball. In high school, he led Hibbing to the Minnesota Class AA State Basketball Tournament title game. In college, he posted a career average of 15.2 points and 8.5 rebounds per game in four seasons at the University of Minnesota, earning first-team All-Big Ten honors in 1979 and 1980. And in the pro ranks, he joined the Boston Celtics for three NBA championships, the first coming in his rookie season with the team.

McHale continued that tradition of quick success with the Timberwolves, moving from special assistant in 1993-94 to assistant general manager in 1994-95 to his latest endeavor as vice president of basketball operations. In that role, McHale is responsible for the franchise's entire basketball operations department – overseeing player personnel decisions, scouting and the coaching staff.

In McHale's first season with the Wolves, 1993-94, he served as a special assistant to the coaching staff. That position utilized the experience of his lengthy basketball career, which culminated in the retiring of his pro, college and high-school game jerseys. In August 1994, he was promoted to a newly created position of assistant general manager.

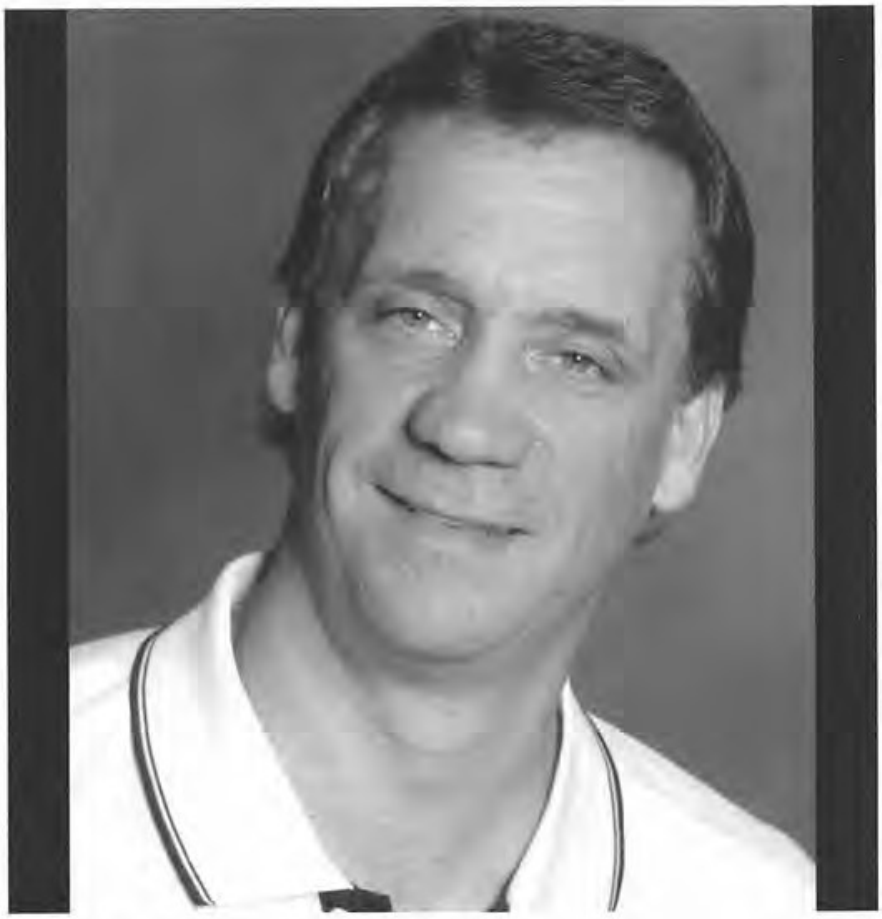
For two seasons, 1993-95, fans enjoyed the insight and wit he brought to his broadcast analysis on the Timberwolves Television Network. His unique style and perspective, combined with the talents of Kevin Harlan, Chad Hartman and Tom Hanneman, made for one of the top local broadcasts in the NBA. With the demands of his vice president position, McHale relinquished his broadcasting duties with the Wolves.

Prior to coming to the Timberwolves organization, McHale played 13 seasons as a power forward for the Celtics before retiring in the spring of 1993. A first-round selection (third overall) by Boston in the 1980 NBA Draft, McHale helped lead the Celtics to three NBA championships (1981, 1984 and 1986), five Eastern Conference titles and eight Atlantic Division crowns. He was voted the NBA's top sixth man twice (1984, 1985) and was selected to the All-NBA First Team in 1987. He was also named to the NBA All-Defensive First Team three times (1986, 1987 and 1988). The 6-10 forward/center averaged 17.9 points and 7.3 rebounds in 971 career regular-season games. He shot 55.4 percent from the floor and 79.8 percent at the free throw line. In 169 postseason contests, McHale increased his averages to 18.8 points and 7.4 rebounds.

On Oct. 1, 1999, Kevin McHale was recognized for his achievements with the Celtics by being inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass. In the typical McHale style, he gave credit to his teammates for helping him to get there. But no one goes into the Hall of Fame without a lot of hard work and personal accomplishment.

In addition to being named to the Basketball Hall of Fame, McHale has received other honors for his basketball prowess. On July 8, 2000, he was inducted into the National High School Sports Hall of Fame. During the 1997 All-Star Game in Cleveland, he was honored as one of the NBA's Top 50 Players for the league's first half-century. On Feb. 18, 1995, he was honored as the top player in U of M men's basketball history, as the school celebrated its 100th anniversary in the sport.

A native of Hibbing, Minn., McHale was born Dec. 19, 1957. He and his wife, Lynn, along with their five children, Kristyn, Michael, Joseph, Alexandra and Thomas, reside in North Oaks, Minn.



FLIP SAUNDERS

HEAD COACH

For Flip Saunders and the Minnesota Timberwolves, the 2003-04 season began with eight newcomers to the roster and injuries to several key players. But as he has done in his previous eight seasons with the Wolves, Saunders got the most out of his team. He guided the Wolves to a franchise-best 58-24 record – the top record in the Western Conference. The team then beat the Denver Nuggets and Sacramento Kings in the playoffs before falling to the Los Angeles Lakers in the Western Conference Finals. Saunders was named Western Conference Coach of the Month for April – the fourth time he's earned this honor (Feb. 2003, Jan. 2001 and Jan. 2000) – after guiding the Wolves to a 6-0 record that month. Also, Saunders' candor and accessibility earned him a spot on the NBA All-Interview Second Team.

In 2002-03, the Saunders-led Wolves finished the regular season with the fourth-best record in the NBA at 51-31. At season's end, Saunders finished sixth in the voting for NBA Coach of the Year honors. During the 2001-02 regular season, he led the Wolves to a 50-32 record, while guiding the team to a sixth consecutive postseason appearance.

In 2000-01, Saunders led the Wolves to 47 victories (47-35), including a franchise-record 11-game winning streak, which was also a league best that season. Additionally, he guided the team to a fifth consecutive postseason appearance. Saunders led the Wolves to 50 victories and a fourth consecutive postseason appearance in 1999-2000. During the 1998-99 season, Saunders held together a club that lost two key players and numerous others to injury to record a 25-25 mark.

In 1997-98, Saunders coached the Wolves to their first-ever winning season (45-37). He also led the team to its first-ever postseason victory as the Timberwolves beat the Seattle SuperSonics twice before falling in the final game of the best-of-five playoff series. In his first full season as the team's head coach, 1996-97, Saunders became the all-time winningest coach in franchise history, leading the team to a 40-42 record and its first playoff appearance.

After seven seasons as a coach in the Continental Basketball Association (CBA), Saunders was named general manager of the Timberwolves on May 11, 1995. But his stay in a front-office-only capacity was to be short-lived. On Dec. 18, 1995, he added the title of head coach to his resume, replacing Bill Blair. Saunders guided the Timberwolves to a 20-42 (.323) mark in 62 games during the 1995-96 season. He has a 386-300 (.563) record in 686 games at the Timberwolves' helm. In his seven full seasons as head coach, he has a 366-258 (.587) mark. Saunders' 386 career coaching wins rank 33rd on the all-time win list and 10th among active coaches.

In September 2001 Saunders led the United States men's basketball team to a perfect 5-0 record and a gold medal at the Goodwill Games in Brisbane, Australia.

Saunders' record of basketball coaching success has a history of its own. He ranks third all-time in the CBA with 253 victories. He began his CBA career in 1988-89 with the Rapid City (S.D.) Thrillers, then moved on to the La Crosse (Wis.) Catbirds for five seasons (1989-94) before coaching the 1994-95 campaign with the Sioux Falls (S.D.) Skyforce. OCTOBER/NOVEMBER (9-8)

As the Wolves opened the 2003-04 season, only two holdovers from the 2002-03 season would find themselves on the active roster: Kevin Garnett and Gary Trent. Two others, Troy Hudson and Wally Szczerbiak, started the season on the Injured List due to injuries sustained during the preseason schedule. Joining Garnett and Trent on the opening day roster were Sam Cassell, rookie Ndudi Ebi, Ervin Johnson and Latrell Sprewell along with free-agent pickups Trenton Hassell, Fred Hoiberg, Quincy Lewis, Mark Madsen, Keith McLeod and Michael Olowokandi. Cassell, Johnson and Sprewell were all acquired via offseason trades. Minnesota split the first eight games of the season and finished the month by winning five of the next nine. Highlights of the month came during the week of Nov. 17-23, when the Wolves won all three games scheduled, overcoming the hype created by two of the best rookies of the season, Denver's Carmelo Anthony and Cleveland's LeBron James. Minnesota won at home against the Nuggets 89-76, thanks to 26 points and 11 rebounds from Garnett; on the road against Cleveland 97-83, led by Sprewell's 31 points; and at home over the L.A. Clippers 103-91. Also in the first month of the season, the Timberwolves franchise celebrated its 10 millionth customer, as Donnie Sartori walked through the turnstile on Nov. 18. The Wolves became the second-fastest franchise to reach the milestone.

DECEMBER (11-2, 20-10)

Minnesota got things going in December, finishing the month with an 11-2 record, the best December in franchise history. The Wolves started the month in the middle of the team's longest road trips of the season. After going 1-1 in the first two games of the trip on Nov. 26-27, Minnesota defeated Phoenix (92-79), Sacramento (112-109 OT) and the L.A. Clippers (96-94). The road trip belonged to Kevin Garnett, as the December Western Conference Player of the Month hit two late three-pointers to put the Sacramento game into overtime, where Latrell Sprewell hit two clutch jumpers en route to a 37-point effort. Two days later, Garnett hit a fade away jumper at the buzzer over the Clippers' Elton Brand to win the game and finish the road trip with a 4-1 record. After a buzzer-beater loss at home to Jason Richardson and the Golden State Warriors on Dec. 9, the Wolves went on a six-game win streak with the victories coming at Washington and Boston, at home against Houston, Dallas and Indiana, and at New York. The streak ended three nights later in Portland. Minnesota started another win streak by recording victories against Seattle and Chicago in the final two games of the month.

JANUARY (12-3, 32-13)

The Wolves kept rolling during January, winning 12 of 15 games played during the month. The squad opened and finished the month with victories over the Atlanta Hawks and Los Angeles Lakers, respectively. In between, they put together a pair of five-game win streaks, including wins over two of the Eastern Conference powers, Detroit and New Orleans. Another impressive win came against conference rival San Antonio on Jan. 14 by a score of 100-93. Kevin Garnett received recognition during the month by being named January Western Conference Player of the Month. He averaged 23.8 points, 14.7 rebounds, and 5.1 assists per game in January, scoring 20-plus points in 12 of the 15 games. He led the team in scoring in six of the 15 games. Head Coach Flip Saunders recorded his 350th career win on Jan. 6, thanks to a 106-90 victory over the Lakers. Also in January, Minnesota had several players surpass milestone numbers in career minutes played, including 5,000 for Trenton Hassell, 16,000 for Ervin Johnson and 25,000 for Garnett. Latrell Sprewell also reached a milestone in January when he became the 92nd player in NBA history to score 15,000 career points. He now ranks 9th among active career scorers.

FEBRUARY (11-4, 43-17)

Minnesota finished February by winning at least 11 games for the third consecutive month. Kevin Garnett had a three-peat of his own in February as he took home the Western Conference Player of the Month award for the third consecutive month, the first time in the 25-year history of the award that a player has achieved that feat. He started the month by scoring his 30,000th point in a victory over Philadelphia and finished with averages of 25.6 points, 13.7 rebounds and 5.0 assists per game. Garnett scored at least 30 points in six games, and hit a season-high of 35 against Cleveland on Feb. 6. The squad won five of seven games in the month before taking a break for the All-Star Game. Head Coach Flip Saunders was tagged to lead the Western Conference All-Stars, a team that included Sam Cassell and Garnett. Saunders and Cassell were making their All-Star Game debut, while Garnett was starting his sixth straight and playing in his seventh overall. Cassell contributed four points and a team-high seven assists and Garnett chipped in with 12 points, seven boards and six assists, leading the team to victory. After the break, the Wolves won six of eight with victories over Phoenix, Sacramento, Detroit, Milwaukee, New Jersey and Golden State. In the Sacramento victory, Minnesota finished the game with a rebounding edge of 26, equaling the largest such spread in franchise history. Against New Jersey, Minnesota held the Nets to 68 points, the fifth time in franchise history they have held a team under 70.

MARCH (9-7, 52-24)

Coming into the month of March, the Timberwolves had won at least 11 games in three consecutive months. That streak came to an end, however, as the squad won nine games, all against Western Conference teams, five of which ended up in the playoffs. The March portion of the schedule was arguably the toughest and Minnesota came out of it as they started it, with the lead in the Midwest Division. The team split one game apiece with Houston, the Los Angeles Lakers, San Antonio and Denver while winning two against Seattle and the only games played against Dallas, Phoenix and the Los Angeles Clippers. The Wolves began the March schedule with a shoot-out victory over Dallas 121-97 before suffering back-to-back home losses to Houston and Boston. The next week, Minnesota traveled to the Pacific Northwest to take on Seattle and Portland. The squad took care of the SuperSonics 105-92 but continued their season swoon against the Trail Blazers, losing 92-79 despite 20 points apiece from Kevin Garnett and Sam Cassell. The club returned home and took care of the Los Angeles Lakers, who where playing with Karl Malone for the first time since Jan. 4, before another stumble against the Trail Blazers. After dropping a game against San Antonio, the squad righted the ship, sandwiching a pair of three-game win streaks between losses to Denver and the Lakers.

APRIL (6-0, 58-24)

The month of March ended with the Wolves winning three straight games and six of their last eight. This trend continued into April, as Minnesota finished the regular season with a season-high nine-game win streak, thanks to a 107-90 victory over Memphis in the regular-season finale. The Wolves, who led by as many as 29 points during the contest, were paced by the "The Big Three" - Kevin Garnett (26 points), Latrell Sprewell (20 points) and Sam Cassell (17 points). The trio shot a combined 24-for-35 from the field. The victory gave the Wolves a franchise-best 58-24 regular season record and also gave them their first Midwest Division Championship. Also, Minnesota racked up the best record in the Western Conference, giving them the number one overall seed in the conference. Of the six games scheduled in the season's final month, five were against Western Conference teams (Memphis twice, Sacramento, Golden State and Utah). Minnesota picked up three road victories in April, giving them 27 for the season, which tied the Indiana Pacers for tops in the league. Garnett was named the Western Conference Player of the Month for the fourth time during the 2003-04 campaign, marking the eighth time he has earned the monthly honor in his career.

ATTENDANCE NOTES

The Timberwolves sold out 15 of their 41 regular-season home games for the 2003-04 season, drawing an average of 17,636 per Target Center date. Minnesota also ranked as the NBA's third-best road attraction last year, averaging a club-record 17,862 per road start; only the L.A. Lakers (19,380) and Cleveland (18,755) drew more fans away from home.

Minnesota surpassed the 10-million mark in all-time home attendance on Nov. 18, 2003 vs. Denver (its 563rd home date), becoming the second-fastest franchise in league history to reach that plateau. The Wolves set an all-time NBA single-season record by drawing 1,072,572 fans (an average of 26,160) to the Metrodome in their inaugural 1989-90 campaign.

The largest attendance ever for a Timberwolves game was 49,551 on Apr. 17, 1990, for the club's final Metrodome appearance (vs. Denver). Minnesota drew a Target Center-record crowd of 20,391 for its Mar. 12, 2004 game against the L.A. Lakers. The Timberwolves' smallest-ever home attendance was 9,954 for the Nov. 15, 1995 game vs. San Antonio.

WOLF TALES

The Wolves and Celtics split the two-game season series in 2003-04... Boston also picked up a 96-80 preseason victory last year (Oct. 22)... Boston has now won five of the last seven regular-season contests dating back to the 2000-01 campaign... However, Minnesota has won nine of the last 15 contests played between the two squads, including wins in five of the last six contests in Boston... On the other hand, the Celtics have claimed victory in the last four Target Center meetings... The Celtics hold a 16-13 edge in the all-time series... Six of the last nine contests have been decided by five or fewer points... During their first meeting last season, Sam Cassell and Kevin Garnett scored 27 points apiece and the Wolves shot a torrid 62.8 percent en route to a 116-95 victory over Boston on Dec. 15 at the FleetCenter... The 21-point margin was the Wolves' biggest ever against Boston... Garnett added 12 rebounds and seven assists, while Cassell dished out nine assists... Walter McCarty's 17 points led the Celtics, and Paul Pierce finished with 15 points, 11 assists and nine rebounds... Jiri Welsch scored 14 of his 18 points in the fourth quarter as Boston overcame a 13-point deficit to post an 80-77 decision over the Wolves at Target Center on March 7... Cassell's potential game-tying trey misfired as time elapsed... Garnett topped the Wolves with 20 points and 14 rebounds, while Michael Olowokandi added 10 points and 14 boards.

ACTIVE LIST

The maximum number of active players is 12 except from time to time as appropriate; but for no more than two consecutive weeks at a time, a team may carry 11. At no time shall a team be permitted to dress fewer than eight players for a regular-season game or fewer than nine for a playoff game. During the offseason and training camp, teams may carry no more than 20 active players.

INJURED LIST

A player transferred to the Injured List due to injury or illness must stay there for no fewer than five games.

TEN-DAY CONTRACT

On Jan. 5, 2005, a team may sign a player to a 10-day contract. This procedure may be used only to replace a player assigned to the Injured List. No player may be signed to more than two 10-day agreements.

TRADING DEADLINE

No trades are permitted after 2:00 p.m. Central time on Feb. 24, 2005. From that point to the end of the regular season, player additions must be made through waiver procedure, or by signing free agents.

GUARANTEED CONTRACT DATE

On the 56th day of the regular season, all player contracts become guaranteed for the remainder of the season.

RENUNCIATION OF AMATEUR ELIGIBILITY

A person whose high school class has graduated shall become eligible for the college draft if he renounces his intercollegiate basketball eligibility by written notice to the NBA at least 45 days prior to the draft. Prior to 45 days before the draft, teams may not make direct or indirect contact with players who have eligibility left. Clubs may contact players without remaining eligibility, but may not discuss compensation.

UNRESTRICTED FREE AGENT

A player who is free to sign with any team.

RESTRICTED FREE AGENT

If a free agent is "restricted," then his prior team has a "right of first refusal" that enables it to match an offer made to the free agent by another team. Thus if a restricted free agent wishes to sign with a new team he must first present his prior team with an "offer sheet" that contains the terms of his proposed contract with the new team. The prior team then has 15 days to decide whether it will sign the player on the terms contained on the offer sheet or let the player sign with the new team.

OPTIONS

A provision negotiated in a contract that allows that contract to be extended one year beyond the scheduled end of that contract. The negotiated option can be either a team or player option.

A total of 16 teams qualify for the NBA playoffs: the six division winners and the next five teams in each conference according to their won-lost record, regardless of division. Each round is best-of-seven games. In every series, the home-court advantage in the extra game goes to the team with the better record during the regular season, regardless of its standing in the division race. Thus, if a division winner plays a second-place team from another division that had a better record, the second-place team would get home-court advantage.

In determining the playoff matches, the eight qualifiers are ranked Teams 1 through 8 (see note below). The playoff pairings for the First Round are teams 1-8, 2-7, 3-6, and 4-5 in each conference. In the conference semifinals, the winner of teams 1-8 plays the winner of teams 4-5 and the winner of teams 2-7 plays the winner of teams 3-6.

The NBA Finals will be played on a 2-3-2 basis, the team with the better regular-season record getting the home-court advantage for the first and last two games. All other series are 2-2-1-1-1.

Some portions of the playoff format were revised in June 1983. A vote by the NBA Board of Governors made the revisions effective in the 1984 playoffs. The major revisions included allowing 16 teams to qualify for the playoffs and changing the first-round best-of-three series to a best-of-five series. Last season, the first-round changed from a best-of-five series to a best-of-seven series.

NOTE: Team 1 in each conference is the division winner with the best record. Teams 2 and 3 are the division winner with the next two best records respectively. Teams 4-8 are ranked according to their regular-season winning percentage.

GENERAL

OUR TEAM. OUR TIME.

MINNESOTA TIMBERWOLVES
FASTBREAK Foundation

What a difference 15 years makes! In the fall of 1988, a fledgling NBA franchise opened its doors in Minnesota and returned professional basketball to our state. One of the first acts of this franchise was to donate more than $45,000 of interest that had been accrued by season ticket holders' orders to the United Way of Minneapolis and St. Paul.

This spirit of giving and community involvement has helped define the Timberwolves organization for 15 years. While players and coaches come and go, the Timberwolves' community foundation has remained a steady community partner by contributing millions of dollars and thousands of player appearances to help charitable causes in our region.

The Timberwolves are very pleased to announce the Foundation's new name: The Minnesota Timberwolves FastBreak Foundation. With a brand-new name and an updated vision, the Foundation will continue the great work of the past and sharpen our focus into three areas: Giving, Education and Basketball. These intertwined areas will each play an important role in supporting the long-term goals of the Foundation.

The Minnesota Timberwolves FastBreak Foundation provides and supports hands-on programs that positively impact Minnesota youth. Through giving, education, and basketball opportunities, the Foundation enables young people to make responsible decisions, contribute to their futures, and experience lifelong memories.

READ TO ACHIEVE

AMERICAN FAMILY INSURANCE

TARGET

Read to Achieve – The National Basketball Association, Timberwolves and American Family Insurance have partnered to implement Read to Achieve – a year-round literacy program campaign to help young people develop a life-long love for reading and encourage adults to read regularly with children. Reaching an estimated 50 million children a year, Read to Achieve is the most extensive educational outreach initiative in the history of professional sports.

Last season marked the second consecutive year the Timberwolves "Starting Five" reading incentive program was distributed to all elementary schools in the five-county metropolitan area. With the participation almost tripling from the previous season, over 4,000 students continued to join their favorite Timberwolves players and Read to Achieve. The Timberwolves also hosted monthly Reading Time Outs, where Timberwolves players and members of the All-Star Reading Team read to almost 1,000 students and shared the importance of literacy. Timberwolves Reading Corners were also created at Andersen Elementary and Tuttle Elementary Schools in Minneapolis.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Celebration Presented by Target – As a tribute to the life and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the Timberwolves conduct an hour-long program at Target Center coinciding with the day's game. This past year's event was themed "Moving the Dream Forward," honoring the life and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. as seen through the eyes of women. The event included several musical selections by The Harlem Girls Choir; an original sketch written especially for this program by local actor, vocalist and storyteller T. Mychael Rambo and Brian Grandison, along with specially taped remarks from Timberwolves players Kevin Garnett and Latrell Sprewell. This year's event is scheduled for Monday, Jan. 17, 2005.

Lunch Learners - Presented by American Family Insurance, the Lunch Learners program gives students the opportunity to dine in an upscale restaurant while learning fine dining etiquette from Timberwolves players and staff. The dining experience is a reward for students who have met certain goals at school. The luncheons, hosted by Morton's of Chicago, were held on three occasions last season.

Never Be Absent - This season marks the fifth year of this innovative program that is designed to keep kids in school. This incentive program rewards students who achieve perfect monthly attendance with Timberwolves tickets and prizes. All students who reached the 95% attendance goal for the year were invited to the N.B.A. Celebration.

Minnesota Timberwolves & Lynx/American Family Insurance Scholarships - The Timberwolves and Lynx partner with American Family Insurance to provide five $2,000 scholarships to high school seniors who are enrolled in college programs for the fall semester. This past year, more than 500 applications were received from students throughout Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota. The scholarships focus on community service, academic achievement and overall character.

giving

This season the FastBreak Foundation will introduce a streamlined grant application process. The grant process will include three tiers of funding:

Signature Grant - The Signature Grant is an annual partnership with one nonprofit organization. This includes a $50,000 grant and a season-long relationship, including promotional support and Timberwolves team and staff involvement.

Premier Grant - The two Premier Grants include a $10,000 grant along with promotional support, including an in-arena check presentation and the opportunity to promote and distribute information at two Timberwolves home games.

Assist Grant - The four Assist Grants include a $5,000 grant along with the opportunity to promote and distribute information at a Timberwolves home game.

For more information, visit www.timberwolves.com and click on Community.

Taste of the Timberwolves - The primary fundraiser for the FastBreak Foundation, this casual night of dining and interaction with Timberwolves players and coaches is a once-in-a-lifetime experience for fans. Each year, a dozen of the Twin Cities' finest restaurants donate their food and services to create an unforgettable buffet, while players and coaches take on all challengers in a variety of interactive games and activities. The event also includes a silent and live auction. This past year's extravaganza raised $225,000 to benefit the Timberwolves FastBreak Foundation.

Tickets for Kids - Through generous donations from Timberwolves players and coaches, season ticket holders and team sponsors, the FastBreak Foundation is able to donate more than 15,000 tickets to nonprofit agencies, schools and shelters throughout the season.

Timberwolves/Minnesota FoodShare Campaign - The Timberwolves partner with Minnesota FoodShare during their annual March campaign to replenish Minnesota food shelves. Volunteers collected a record $5,000 in cash donations during Timberwolves home games in March 2004, which marked the seventh year the Wolves have participated in this project.

Playground Renovations - The Timberwolves and American Family Insurance partner together in an effort to bring new playground facilities to neighborhoods in need. Last season, playgrounds were installed at Higher Ground Academy and Parkview Montessori.

Heroes in the Making - At selected home games, the Timberwolves honor individuals who have made an overwhelming impact on the lives of others in the Minnesota community. These individuals will be recognized for their efforts with on-court recognition for their achievement and receive a Heroes in the Making award.

Spreading Holiday Cheer

Thanksgiving Basket Giveaway - Through selected agencies, Timberwolves players, coaches and staff distribute Thanksgiving baskets for needy families and individuals.

Holiday Party for Kids - Approximately 200 children from local shelters and community agencies enjoy a holiday they will never forget with the Timberwolves. The kids enjoy balloons, chats with Santa, face painting and a hot meal. Each child receives a gift certificate good at a local toy store. Timberwolves players, coaches and staff are on hand to distribute the gift certificates and spread holiday cheer.

Hospital Tour Presented by Hot Tamales - Timberwolves players, coaches and staff visit area Children's Hospitals and shelters, bringing gifts, smiles and words of encouragement each January.

Timberwolves Festival of Trees - During December home games, each Timberwolves player has a miniature holiday tree on display at Target Center, representing the personality and holiday favorites of each player. Trees include two autographed ornaments and are auctioned off to the highest bidders.

Scholarship Camp - The FastBreak Foundation Scholarship Camp gives underprivileged youth the unique opportunity to attend a Timberwolves camp. Youth are selected from various agencies throughout the Twin Cities area and are invited to the week-long camp during the summer.

Jr. Wolves - Sponsored by Freschetta Pizza and Gatorade, the Jr. Wolves program promotes the game of basketball to the youth of Minnesota. These programs include statewide summer camps, pregame clinics and high school games played at Target Center. Youth teams also have the opportunity to play during halftime at Timberwolves home games. The goal is to offer the game of basketball to Minnesota kids of all ages, skill and interest levels. The program continues to expand each year to accommodate a growing interest in youth basketball.

Point Guard Program - The Timberwolves Point Guard Program is an opportunity for youth basketball teams to raise funds by selling the Timberwolves game programs at every home game. Proceeds from the sale of the game programs also benefit the Timberwolves FastBreak Foundation. Last season the program raised nearly $20,000 for over 35 youth basketball teams.

Timberwolves Ten - Sponsored by Schwan's Food Company, the Timberwolves Ten is an awards program that recognizes Minnesota's 10 best basketball players. Five boys and five girls are selected each season by a blue ribbon panel chaired by Hall of Famer Kevin McHale.

NBA Community Outreach

The dedication of the NBA, its teams and players to the improvement of communities around the world has a long history and tremendous reach.

The league's implementation and execution of its Read to Achieve program impacts and inspires children and their families to develop a lifelong love of reading. The entire NBA family has placed reading and children's education at the forefront of its community work by donating millions of dollars, extensive resources and countless volunteer hours to the promotion and sponsorship of literacy initiatives. In addition, through the internationally acclaimed Basketball without Borders program, the NBA reaches people all over the world.

Through the Jr. NBA/Jr. WNBA programs, the NBA positively impacts millions of kids and their parents on a year-round basis through stressing fundamental basketball skill development, teamwork, sportsmanship and positive adult participation. The Jr. NBA/Jr. WNBA aims to develop a lifelong passion for the game of basketball by providing a support structure that encourages participation and makes youth basketball fun and rewarding for players, coaches, officials and parents.

As the world's greatest athletes, NBA players are dedicated to the community and committed to giving back in extraordinary ways. Through their foundations, camp efforts and charitable work, they make a difference for thousands of nonprofit and youth-serving organizations. Each month, the NBA honors one of its players who has achieved outstanding accomplishments in the community with the Community Assist Award and the David Robinson plaque, which represents the standard and legacy set by the NBA legend. Additionally, the NBA and WNBA each present an annual Sportsmanship Award to a player who best represents the ideals of sportsmanship.

In addition to youth sports and education, the NBA also supports numerous causes and organizations that positively impact communities, including The Thurgood Marshall Scholarship Fund, UNICEF, The National Wheelchair Basketball Association, The National Civil Rights Museum, Gallaudet University, The National Underground Railroad Freedom Center and the Global Business Coalition on HIV/AIDS.

Target Center Renovations

On May 6, 2004, the Timberwolves and Nederlander Organization announced plans to continue the extreme makeover taking shape at Target Center. The facelift that started last fall with a state-of-the-art scoreboard, technologically advanced LED signage, and a new parquet-style playing surface continued this summer with the replacing of the arena's 19,000 aging seats and reconfiguring the lower-bowl to be more fan-friendly.

The seating replacement project was one of several initiatives designed to make Target Center an even more attractive venue for entertainment and sporting events. Wolves fans will notice numerous changes when they enter the arena bowl at the beginning of the 2004-05 season. Every seat in the arena has been replaced with a new chair with state-of-the-art components resulting in ergonomic comfort, durability and a distinctive style. The seating features a Timberwolves color scheme with blue seats and a band of green and black seats reminiscent of the pine trees that surround the team's court. The new lower-level configuration will add 350 seats without reducing the width of the seat. Additionally, over 1,700 folding chairs on the lower level were replaced with wider permanent armchairs. The reconfiguration provides better sightlines and creates a more intimate setting. The new seating structure also provides a wider variety of seating options for Target Center patrons with disabilities.

Target Center, which is located in the heart of vibrant downtown Minneapolis, is one of the premier entertainment facilities in the country. Target Center is home to the NBA's Midwest Division Champion Timberwolves and the WNBA's Lynx and hosts over 225 event nights annually. Target Center has direct skyway access to over 12,000 parking spaces as well as access to the best restaurants, bars, nightlife and hotels that Minneapolis has to offer.

Club CAMBRIA

On Aug. 19, 2004, the Timberwolves and Lynx and Midwest Entertainment announced that the organizations had teamed with CAMBRIA to create Target Center's newest amenity, Club CAMBRIA. The upscale luxury lounge is like no other in any entertainment venue.

The Club CAMBRIA project combined eight existing suites at Target Center into one luxury suite complete with lavish stadium-style seating and CAMBRIA natural quartz countertops, bar tops, table tops, wall cladding and tile throughout. The club features fine food, a fully stocked bar and plush seating with a prime view of all Target Center events.

Club CAMBRIA, the latest in a wave of improvements and additions that Target Center has undergone in the last year, is a members-only lounge located on the private suite level of the arena. A limit of 148 memberships were made available in Club CAMBRIA, making it the most exclusive entertainment setting in the Twin Cities.

A Club CAMBRIA membership includes a seat for all Timberwolves and Lynx home games, dinner at the game, an exclusive concierge service and access to tickets for other Target Center events. For more information on Club CAMBRIA, please call 612-673-8070.

U.S. Bank Theater

On Aug. 12, 2004, U.S. Bank and Midwest Entertainment, which encompasses the Timberwolves/Lynx and Target Center, announced plans for the U.S. Bank Theater at Target Center. The U.S. Bank Theater allows Target Center to become a more intimate venue configured specifically for shows with capacities ranging from 3,500 to 7,500 patrons. Events hosted at the U.S. Bank Theater will include concerts, family shows and corporate activities. The U.S. Bank Theater features a floor-to-ceiling, moveable-curtaining system that allows the venue to be transformed based on specific event needs. The acoustics of the U.S. Bank Theater are second to none. As part of this project, the venue was treated with state-of-the-art acoustical elements to enhance the sound for patrons.
